Christian Woman Dead.

Brandenburg, Ky., Oct. 20.—(Special)—The illness of Mrs. Jane Smith has been mentioned several times in the News. On last Tuesday night, Oct. 18, she quietly passed over to a reward well deserved.

Mrs. Smith was a Miss Woolfolk, sister of Judge J. F. Woolfolk, her only surviving brother. When very young she was united in marriage to Cal Richardson. Her second marriage was to Robt. Smith. She was married and lived her entire life of sixty-eight years in Meade county.

As a mother she was all that sacred word embodies. As a grandmother she was loving and faithful. Be it said to the honor of her children none could have more attentive. Mrs. Smith died at the residence of her son, D. S. Richardson, who, with two daughters, Mrs. R. H. Nevitt and Mrs. J. A. Smith, survive her. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. L. ## CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS

Hardinsburg, Ky., Oct. 20.—(Special)—The following are Circuit Court proceedings for the first week:

The cases of Dr. A. M. Kincheloe, Dr. P. W. Foote and Dr. J. M. Walker against the county for medical services rendered small poor patients, were compromised by the county agreeing to pay them sixty per cent. of the several amounts claimed.

In the action of McEl Dowell vs. Alfred Hawkins, etc., the report of sale was confirmed and the case continued until the next term of court.

An agreed order was entered in F. W. Bates vs. Columbia Finance and Trust Co. directing the sale of the Tar Springs property, no bid to be received for less than $2,300.

The petit jury for this term are: S. E. Basham, John Farrow, Joe F. Parsons, Jno. B. Butler, F. F. Dean, John Wimp, J. B. Ricketts, M. C. Delemotte, Eli Chapin, Marion Beben, Henry E. Head, J. L. Gray, John Stinnett, John Alexander, J. C. Mattingly, Nelson Claycomb, R. B. Pierce, Wm. A. Jolly, David Driskell, Wm. Garman, Julius Duttsche and John H. Elder.

The prosecution against Joe Jackson, who was charged with horse stealing, was tried Tuesday and the defendant acquitted. R. B. Pierce was the foreman of the jury.

There have been six divorces granted at this term.

James Salmon, Lewis Rankin and Charles Salmon were each fined $30 for gaming.

The case of Solomon Shellman vs. W. E. Brown was transferred from the ordinary to the Equity docket and continued.

The non-resident, in the case of Marcella Robertson vs. Eugene Robertson, moved the court to require the plaintiff to give bond, which motion the judge sustained, and she was given until the first day of the next term to execute bond.

In the case of John Hall vs. J. G. Harris, etc., the defendants moved to require the plaintiff, he being a non-resident, to execute bond for cost by the first day of the next February term. Said motion was sustained.

The suits for damages against the L. H. & St. L. Ry. Co. by Ben Jolly's Ex-atrix, Peyton Scott's administrator and T. M. Board were continued until next term.

Larcus Cecil, a negro boy about 20 years old, was convicted of striking another with intent to kill, and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. He is the only one to go to the penitentiary as a result of trials at this term.

The action of Clyde Carville against the L. H. & St. L. Ry. Co., was compromised by the railway company paying $50 for killing Mr. Carville's horse.

In the prosecution against Noney Raymer, charged with shooting another in sudden heat and passion, the proof tended to show that it was accidental, and he was acquitted by the jury. Henry E. Head was the foreman of the jury.

The Grand Jury returned sixty-one indictments, considerably more than have been returned at any term for years. Two are for false swearing, one for burglarizing several for gaming, three for carrying a concealed deadly weapon and most of the others are for violating the laws in regard to intoxicating liquors. Six against Billy Fallwood and fourteen against the Louisville and Evansville Packet Co. were returned for violations of the liquor laws.

The Grand Jury was finally discharged on Saturday afternoon, they having completed their investigations.

The damage suit of F. W. Hall against the L. H. & St. L. Ry. Co. is set for trial on the tenth day of the next, next Thursday. It is expected that it will consume three days of the term in the trial of the case.

Court will, in all probability, last until next Tuesday, October 27, at which time there are four jury cases set for trial on October 28.

ONE LUNG

May be gone and yet the remaining lung will be amply sufficient to sustain a vigorous vitality. As a general thing few people make more use of both lungs than is equivalent to a healthy use of one lung.

These facts are all in the favor of the man or woman with weak lungs, even when disease has a strong grip on them. Many a person living in health to-day has the lungs marked by the healed scars of disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes weak lungs strong. It cures chronic, deep-seated coughs, bronchitis, bleeding lungs and other conditions, which, if neglected or unsuitably treated, find a fatal termination in consumption. "I had been troubled with lung disease for several years and the trouble had almost become chronic," writes A. S. Ham, of Worcester, Mass. "I had several kinds of medicine from different physicians without benefit. At last wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce and got his advice and began using his Golden Medical Discovery. I have used twenty-five bottles. When I commenced taking it I had no appetite, my system was completely run-down, and I was unable to do anything but my bed. I feel better than I did before I got sick. Have a good appetite and am able to do my work. I strongly recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to all who are afflicted as I was."

Those who suffer from chronic diseases are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter. Free All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery."

These October Days.

By Mrs. H. B. Grinnell.

These October days are soft, beautiful and enticing. There's a beauty everywhere—somewhat pathetic, with Nature giving a last new color to every landscape ere she bids farewell to earth for a season; and while we gaze and while we gaze and wonder how all things now so full of animation can wither, perish and die, we realize how little we know of the problems before us.

Life and death are mysteries, and while we admire the changing panorama, we cannot appreciate the delightful solution, because so ignorant of the problems. We are surprised at each altering background or foreground, to know that the ancient Greek so learned in art, letters, sculpture, painting, and with such an exquisite sense of beauty, never practiced landscape painting. It was something more than scenic or decorative work, and thus fell far short of what is now our standard for such painting. We cannot understand why they failed to seek nature for models. If Zeus could paint grapes so perfectly that birds came to peck at them, why couldn't he have succeeded in landscape painting? Surely he had seen the Indiana hills in October, the Ohio so still and calm on these beautiful moonlight nights, the sky with its ever-changing beauty—in fact, the landscape far and near—his imagination would have been so awakened that he, perhaps, would have put the scene on canvas.

Think of the Indiana hills, the Ohio and its moon-light stillness, when the Golden Age, reigned, 476—300 B. C. Even modern Greece, with her University of Athens, is stepping back two generations.
Will Greece ever renew her ancient literary glories, and will she ever prove herself worthy of her illustrious ancestors?

O. V. I. AT EVANSVILLE.

The Ohio Valley Improvement association had its most profitable meeting since its organization, at Evansville last Thursday and Friday. Embodied in the resolutions were recommendations that the former reports of engineers regarding the plans for Ohio river improvements be sanctioned; that the Finance Committee of the association be commended for its useful work in getting the association out of debt; that the press be commended for its generous support of the movement to improve the river; that the legislatures of Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana be thanked for their resolution supporting the movement; that the officers of the association and the statesmen who attended the meeting have thanks for their work and attendance. The resolutions concluded with the statement that "the convention in this city had been the most important and the most successful in the history of the association."

The Association will have its meeting at Huntington, W. Va., next year. Cannelton, Owensboro, and Tell City were among the towns that sent delegates. Cloverport should have sent delegates but didn't.

END OF THE MANEUVERS.

Last Review of Troops Was Held Wednesday—Departure of Troops.

JOE WHEELER AT WEST POINT.

The review of 2,500 soldiers of the regular army last Wednesday finished the programme of maneuvers at Camp Young. About one thousand people saw the review. It had no special feature, or no element which has not been seen before. Gen. Bates and Gen. Kobbie and their staffs rode to the big parade field back of Howard, at 2 o'clock. A few minutes later the Generals rode on an inspection trip up and down the field. Then taking a position in the center of the field the Generals watched the troops pass before them, first coming the infantry then the batteries and the cavalry winding up in the rear. The First Infantry and the Eighth Cavalry band played. The review was a short one and was over by 3 o'clock.

The feature of Wednesday, which was the last official day of the maneuvers, was the hearty good fellowship manifested by the officers who had been for three weeks so closely associated. Whatever of stilted formality there may be among soldiers on duty, it disappeared as they gathered in little knots, men who had not seen each other since they fought in the same Philippine campaigns, and talked of their plans for the future, discussed the Russian-Japanese situation and expressed, one and all, a desire to get into the fight. The morning was spent in preparation for the review of the afternoon and arranging details of departure.

Last Thursday morning at 6 o'clock the departure of the troops still remaining at West Point for their home stations, began. Part of the troops went Thursday and the remainder Friday. Troop K of the Fourth cavalry and company C of the Third Infantry were ordered to remain to protect property and place it in repair, where it had been damaged by the soldiers during the maneuvers.

The soldiers who left Camp Young were bound for their home stations, but most of the officers left for Fort Riley, Kan., where the maneuvers of the troops belonging to the Department of Missouri is now in progress. Thursday night Maj. Gen. Bates, his staff, the maneuver umpires, and Col.

"Fighting" Joe Wheeler, the veteran Confederate general and the popular hero of the Spanish-American war, was the most distinguished guest of the army at West Point last week. Gen. Wheeler rode with Gen. Bates in an automobile and was an interested spectator of the maneuvers. Gov. Beckham, also, was at West Point a few hours last week and met Gen. Wheeler.

The maneuvers at West Point were eminently successful in every respect, according to military officers. The mimic warfare was a great benefit for the militia of the several states and limbered up the regulars. The association of the militia with the regulars and the opportunity of seeing the methods of fighting adopted by them proved of benefit also. One feature that contributed to the success of the maneuvers was the fact that comparatively little property was damaged by soldiers and that the farmer and the citizens of this section of country were pleased, as a rule, with the behavior of the troops and enjoyed watching the parades and maneuvers.

The total amount of claims filed at headquarters for damage done properly by troops was just $1,300. In all fifty claims were made, and they range from $2 to $365. The most unique is the claim of Mrs. Patterson, of the Applegate farm. She says soldiers robbed three trees of twenty bushels of hickory nuts, and she wants $1 a bushel for the loss.

Electric Railway in Perry.

The Louisville & Southern Indiana Traction Co. is planning to build interurban lines out of Louisville and New Albany to Corydon and into Clark, Jackson, Washington, Orange, Harrison, Crawford and Perry counties, in Indiana. It is said that a line will soon be built to Corydon and thence to Leavenworth, also to Paoli, French Lick and West Baden. Perry county, especially that portion in which Tobinsport is located, is badly in need of better shipping facilities and the proposed electric line, when in operation, would greatly conduce to the development of the farming and mineral resources of that section.

TWO SUPERVISORS OF TRACK.

Irvington, Ky., Oct. 30.—(Special.) Lou Bishoff, one of the most faithful employees of the Henderson Route, has been promoted by his company and is now supervisor of part of the main line, also the branch road.

Mr. Bishoff is supervisor of track for the Henderson Route between West Point and Stephensport, on the main line, and between Fordville and Irvington on the branch road. C. M. Stevens, of Owensboro, has been appointed supervisor of track for the road between Stephensport and Henderson. Each supervisor has the same number of miles of track. Each section foreman will now report to the supervisor on his end of the line and not to Roadmaster Hudson's office, as formerly. The two officers were created after the death of Assistant Roadmaster Clarence Board, to whom, formerly, the section foremen reported.

Mr. Bishoff will have his headquarters at Irvington, where he has been section foreman for some time. Mr. Stevens, who has been section foreman for the road at Owensboro, will move to this city, where he will have his headquarters. He is a brother of J. O. Stevens, section foreman at this point. The duty of Messrs. Stevens and Bishoff is to see that the track only is kept in order and repair, while Jule Brashear, of West Point, is supervisor of bridges.

THE NEWER SURGERY AND MEDICINE.

When that genial philosopher, Mr.
Dooley, had occasion to discuss the important theme of sickness, he concluded that it must be little difference whether you called in a Christian Scientist or the doctor—provided you had a good nurse.

"Not quite so radical, but tending much that way are the conclusions of Dr. Beverly Robinson in the Medical Record. He shows that we have had too much surgery, and too much medicine. Quoting Dr. R. H. Fitz, of Boston, who carefully analyzed numerous surgical operations, during a period of ten years, he says: "that many of them could not be justified if either the immediate or remote results were fairly considered." In speaking of haste in operating for appendicitis, Doctor Robinson invokes the authority of Doctor Treves, who, it will be remembered, had charge of King Edward's case last year. He says: "Dr.
Treves lays stress upon the fact that the great majority of cases of appendicitis recover spontaneously without either an operation or the formation of an abscess; that the ultra-cure cases are actually rare."

Doctor Robinson's conclusion as to surgery is: "Examples might be given which would go to prove that what to some seems advancement in surgery of our day is in reality only proof of too great hardness or of ignorance of the great purposes of this noble art. "By, then, allow it to go into most hazardous ways, and especially where the chances are very great against any real or lasting success being returned? We are prepared to grant the immense triumphs of modern surgery, thanks to asepticism and perfect drainage. We only become sceptical and inclined to criticize and upbraid when, through the very impetuosity which skill and opportunity afford, it shows a subservience to these factors, when, with a wider knowledge and appreciation of general laws which govern disease, surgery must abandon operations which are useless or dangerous, or, perhaps, while involve only slight risk, may be followed sooner or later by consequences more lamentable than the original disturbance of organs or of health from which the patient primarily suffered."

So far medicine is concerned the writer approves of the employment of hygienic methods and very simple remedies rather than an indiscriminate use of strong drugs, which are nearly always harmful. He in part says:

"Medicine has her great and noble achievements also; likewise she has many drawbacks. The vast armamentarium of new drugs foisted upon us at every turn seems to be a great ill.
Among them only a limited few are really useful and relatively innocuous.
The powerful ones, and especially those so used as the only deratives, do great harm unless used with rare good judgment and in small or moderate doses at all times."

EDITOR SOMMERS AR-

TICLE HAS TRUE RING.

An article headed "Col. Weisinger's Mistake," that appeared in last week's issue of the Elizabethtown News, has the true ring and should be echoed all along the line, until heard from one end of Kentucky to the other.
We remember Col. Weisinger, in his speech at Bowling Green, in behalf of the Democratic party, give as his reasons why voters should not support Col. Beckman for Governor that the Republican candidate had never taken a chew of Kentucky's chief product and had never taken a drink of whisky, another of our leading products. The Elizabethtown News, as we well know, a strong advocate of Gov. Beckman and the Democratic party. Here in substance what it had to say of Col. Weisinger's "Opinion."

Col. Beckman's abstinence in both particulars is to his credit and not to his discredit and Col. Weisinger is the first man who ever proclaimed from the stump that chewing tobacco and drinking whisky were accomplishments of gentlemen. Such habits, the News says, are deplored by Christian gentlemen and are never commended. The men who indulge in these small vices have never urged them as grounds for political support. The editor, in his more emphatic address, "We want to emphasize our condemnation of the foolishness of Col. Weisinger, as in his zeal for our candidate, Gov. Beckman, he has stepped hard upon the toes of all moral people of the State, who have no doubt, will see the folly of whisky drinking or the filthy habit of chewing tobacco." Score a big victory for our neighbor paper! "Rah, for any editor who stands for a clean life and good habits and has the Col. Weisinger take the advice of this sensible editor and "go way back and sit down and keep his mouth shut." I, for one, would appeal to all young men of high ideals and generous impulses —the young men who may some day aspire to political honors, to steer as clear as possible of Col. Weisinger's ideas of "accomplishments." The work for every young man to do in Kentucky is to vote for a man of clean habits and pure ideals. No matter whether the vote be cast for town, county, state or national candidates. If Isaac Shelby, who is considered to have been our greatest Governor, could come back to earth and offer for office and advocate drinking whisky, every young man in the State should vote against him at the polls. No man, put by the voice of the people to rule over them, should advocate or even tolerate intoxicating beverages. If a voter is against whisky and saloons let him vote for the man who opposes them. Whenever we put a man above party predilections then, and not until then, will we have clean government. I like that "Good Government League," picking its candidates from the best church element. I wish we had one everywhere and then the whisky ticket would be snowed under.—Mrs. H. B. Grinnell, Brendanburg.

There is no nobler young man in this county than Sherman Ball. He is a self-made man. What he is he owes to his own efforts. He was a mere strapping, green country boy when he first went to Hardinsburg and offered his services to the public. He had his rebuffs and back sets like all other striving, ambitious boys. He never faltered although reverses came.
He needed to the line—kept right along doing his duty and making friends and was rewarded by his party with the office of circuit clerk. He now holds. He has made a good clerk.
His work speaks for itself. He is faithful to his duties, attended to the business of his office and treated everybody well and courteously. He is a Republican but not a narrow partisan. Any man, be he Republican or Democrat, can vote for him. He's not narrow and bigoted but broad and liberal. So remember him when you cast your vote November 3.

Honesty in motive, word, deed and impulse is the purest quality in the world.—John Wananaker.

Hawesville has a Cabbage Patch out Mrs. Wiggs is not in it.

The Hon. W. C. Owens will speak at Brendanburg Saturday, Oct. 31.

Our "Cousin Jeemes" is on the track for Judge. You'll see his picture on the callout when you cast your vote. It will be about the first thing that will strike you. We're afraid our Cousin Jeemes is a little too late. It is amusing to see how persistent he is and how he craves for office.

Our old friend, Henry W. Herndon the genial host of Hotel Henderson, is making that hotel a popular resort for the weary traveler on his way. He is doing a splendid business and giving Henderson one of the best hotels it ever had. Henry takes to the hotel business like a fish to water. He was cut out for the business, enjoys it and makes things pleasant for everybody. It's a pleasure to run up against him.

While at Fordville on October 17, we had a pleasant conversation with Edwin Forbes, of that town. Col.
Forbes has been a subscriber to the News ever since it has been a paper.
He has always paid his subscription promptly and he is now one year in advance with his payments. He says that the Breckenridge News is unlike any paper he ever saw in many respects. That the paper is full of the most pleasing and interesting literature that can be selected from all sources and is pleasing alike for all of our reading population, and that its advertisements are so displayed in its columns that they are more attractive and interesting than they are annoying to its readers. That he takes five papers and that the Breckenridge News contains more interesting and pleasant reading to him than all the rest combined and that it is so filled of all rule or gay sayings that it's more like a religious paper than a weekly issue of current events. And now that its subscription price is only fifty cents a year he thinks that the News should be laid on the table every week in the homes of all bona fide readers throughout our land and that ministers and public teachers should encourage the circulation of such papers and condemn all literature, as we do, that is so full of youthful mind and offensive to old age. He says he is going to make an effort to have the Breckenridge News in the homes of all the farmers in East Fordville precinct, which, no doubt, will swell the poultry industry at Fordville. The check for this farm product is to be sent to the Breckenridge News and placed to the credit of the East Fordville subscription list.

Good Printing

Is as essential to business as good stock. When in correpondence with parties unknown to you do you think favorably of the person or firm whose letter is written on stationery that is untidy and has a cheap appearance or do you think favorably of the one that is written on stationery that bears a mark of excellence.

Be your own judge.
Which of the two do you think would appeal to the intelligence of a man or woman with whom you have occasion to correspond.
If you think favorably of the superior grade of stationery we can please you.

Our Repair Shop

Do you know that we have one among the best Repair Departments in this section of the country. Equipped with up-to-date tools and machinery, and a stock of material and repairs that a city shop need not be ashamed of.
A pretty broad assertion, but it is a fact nevertheless.
Our motto is:

"We'll Do it Right or Not at All."

Do you know where eight watches out of every ten are ruined? It is by some so-called repairer. They either don't know how, or not prepared for it, or don't care.

JOCKEYS IN TRAINING

Keeping The Weight Down is Not a Difficult Problem

FATTENING FOODS AVOIDED.

"It is a popular belief," a well known trainer said to a reporter recently, "that a jockey has to resort to all sorts of injurious practices in order to keep his weight within required limits. The idea, however, is a far stretched one. Of course a jockey has to go through certain exercises each day and has to be very much more careful regarding what he puts in his stomach than most people in order to keep his weight down and from acquiring a superfluity of flesh, but he certainly does not starve himself, as is generally supposed. He did so he would break down entirely in a very short time. A jockey must also be in the best possible physical trim and have his wits about him before a race, and to attain this he must be careful how he uses his constitution.

"There are two very important things a jockey has to consider in his diet. He must see to it that his food is of the best quality and that it contains practically no flesh forming properties. All such fattening foods as for instance, soups, beef, pork, potatoes, puddings and pastries a jockey must deny himself. Coffee, tea or other drinks are only taken very moderately, as all liquids help more or less in putting on flesh.

"Although a jockey has to eschew such foods, there are many other varieties which he gets just as much pleasure in eating and which at the same time are equally as good and strengthening for his constitution. A few days before a race a jockey who has a mount in it will not stint himself—provided he has no fear of overtopping his proper weight for the race—in anything which he thinks will not interfere with his digestive apparatus.

"Some jockeys, of course, take on and lose flesh quicker than others. I have known one or two who were particularly anxious to ride in certain races, but for which they were perhaps as much as eight or nine pounds too heavy, who reduced that weight in the same number of days. To accomplish that, however, they have to resort practically to a 'starving diet,' leaving as little as the strength of the body permit without breaking down and trying to reduce their overweight by certain sweating exercises. It is needless to say that on a jockey could stand the frequent repetitions of such severe measures to subtract from his weight without danger of permanently injuring his health and even exercising his will still more willingly resort to such 'get light weight' quick methods where they see good opportunities of making a name or a pile of money for themselves.

"It must be remembered that by nature jockeys as a whole are of substantial physique and of sturdy build, although they are as tough as whipcord. If they were, therefore, to indulge every day in the heavy full of fare that the average horse or working man partakes of it is not probable that they would increase much in weight or height. On the other hand, in the big hotels and restaurants at the various racing seasons after a race tucking in big and expensive dinners with a gusto and relish that would give a chronic dyspeptic an appetite for hard tack.

"Walking, running, cycling, pushing.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may find it in any sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet letter. Name of Swamp-Root, Inc. about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 7, 1902. Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie on my back nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not eat without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering by trying it but know its value.

Sergius Runkler

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do without great pain. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

WINE OF CARDUI

the bag and hurdle jumping are favorite exercises among jockeys to keep their weight down. On going out on a walk or run they wrap themselves in the thickest of woolen sweaters and other heavy clothing, no matter how high the temperature may be, and the exercise is kept up for a distance perhaps of eight or nine miles, or, as we say, until you are 'drowned in sweat.' Turkish baths are also frequently indulged in by many, and they must wear excessively warm clothing after, and also when going for a gallop, no matter if the weather be boiling hot.

"I should say that ten or twelve years is the average of a jockey's active life. The length of his career, however, depends a great deal on his riding ability and luck. "Jockeys are not of a saving class, and with but few exceptions I know of none who have managed to put enough money away to keep him. I even half credit comfort after retiring from the turf. The majority, however, succeed in scraping up a bank roll of about $10,000 to $20,000 in some business. Like retired pugilists, they have a fondness for the liquor business, and I know a few one time jockeys who are now in the saloon business and enter into such businesses as enable them to gratify their inveterate love for gambling. I know of only one ex-jockey who is an exception to this rule. He retired some years ago with $50,000 to credit, but he immediately went into the real estate business in New Jersey. Today he is doing well. He was fortunate enough, however, to receive a good common school education in his early boyhood days, and that's a thing jockeys very rarely get. Outside of their knowledge of horsemanship the great majority are as ignorant as red Indians."—New York Times.

is the one that will cleanse the system, set the liver to action, remove the bile, clear the complexion, cure headache and leaves a good taste in the mouth. The famous Little Pills for doing such work pleasantly and effectually are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Bob Moore, of Lafayette, Ind., says: "All other pills I have used gripe and sicken, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers are simply perfect." Sold by all Druggists.

Wife's Letters Are Sacred.

The gratification of a husband's idle curiosity in reading and opening his wife's letters against her protest, will no longer be afforded. This is the command which has gone out from the postoffice department. As a result of repeated requests by postmasters throughout the country for a ruling in the matter, this action has been taken. The ruling is as follows: "A husband has no right to receive the mail addressed to his wife against her wishes.

"As to the mail addressed to the children, the father has the prior right to receive it unless there be some particular circumstances in the case which the Department might take into consideration on a statement of the facts being presented."

KINKEAD TO SPEAK HERE.

Judge R. C. Kinkead, of Louisville, will speak at Oelze' store room in this city at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Thursday, Oct. 22. Judge Kinkead will speak in the interest of the Republican State ticket. He is one of the best speakers sent out this fall by the Republican campaign committee and it will pay everyone to be present and hear him. He is a calm and yet a very forceful speaker and does not offend members of the opposition party by abusing their leaders and their platform, as he is entirely free of this odious trait.

Judge Kinkead was one of the leading lawyers for the defense in the trial of Calab Powers and what he says about this event, so interesting to all Kentuckians, can be relied on as being true.

Judge Kinkead will be the only Republican speaker who will be in Cloverport during the present campaign.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and gripes effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other having once used it. For sale by Short & Haynes.

New Flues in Boiler.

Your Uncle Fuller Coming.

Glendene Ky., Oct. 14—1903.—Dear Sir:

I see the Old Fiddlers' contest comes off Oct. 29. You can bet your last dollar I will be there dead or alive.

This man who played while the insects entered Noah's ark don't have any effect on me, and he will tell you all so after it is over. I go away back and bring up the old pieces that Adam and Eve played in the garden, the oldest music on record. All I ask is a fair show and if I don't get the prize I will make some one scratch his head where it don't itch. I don't need any snake oil if I am the old snake myself and you will hear me rattle on the 29. I know I can win if I don't have to play over twenty-four hours. I am good for that long and never play the same old tune the second time. So you can look for Uncle Fuller.

I mean all I say and more and if they want a step or two of old-fashioned dancing I can hit a lick or two now. I want such men as old Noah, for our judges, and I am safe.

Here are the names of some more old tunes, three quarters' round Old Sallie Gooden, Brick Yard Joe, Grey Eagle, Buttermilk and Cider and Charley is a Lady's Man. And I will play the rest when I come, so look out for you, Uncle Fuller.

Yours,
Louis Ashley.

LYNCH LAW.

It May Have Taken Its Name From a Mayor of Galway.

About the year 1500 one James Fitzstephens Lynch was mayor of the town of Galway, in Ireland. He had sent his son on a trading expedition to Spain with a good cargo and a large sum of money. The young man returned with a ship load of valuable commodities, which he reported as having been purchased with the money and with the proceeds of the outgoing cargo. After some time a Spaniard came along, demanding payment from the mayor for the goods he alleged had been bought on credit by his son. The mayor declined payment, as his son averred he had paid in cash for the goods. Unfortunately for him, a sailor on board had been one of the crew on examination by Mayor Lynch declared that his unworthy son had spent in reckless debauchery not only the money entrusted to him, but the proceeds of the cargo as well; that he had then bought goods from a large firm on credit, and when one of the partners of the firm came down to the ship before sailing to receive the money young Lynch murdered the man and had him thrown overboard to conceal the facts from his father.

The young man was immediately arrested and brought before his father, who, notwithstanding the fearful entreaties of his wife and daughters, sentenced him to death. He took him upstairs in his warehouse, adjured a dozen around his neck, having first secured it inside, and then pushed the young man out of the window, where his dying struggles were witnessed by the inhabitants of the town of Galway. In the town records this entry is yet to be seen:

"James Lynch, mayor of Galway, hanged his own son out of the window for defrauding and killing strangers, without martial or common law, to show a good example to posterity."

It may be from that incident that Lynch law took its name. It is not a peculiar American institution, as is commonly supposed, but has been practiced in other countries. The English had a law in Devonshire of the name of Lydford, which became noted for the summary punishments inflicted on notorious offenders. They became proverbial in England as Lydford law, and it is not impossible that Lynch may be a corruption of Lydford. In Scotland it was known as "Edinburgh justice."

James Lynch, a justice of the peace in one of the Piedmont counties in Virginia, whose methods were both summary and severe, is also credited with having given his name to this offhand and expeditious mode of dealing with criminals now generally known as Lynch law.—Pittsburg Gazette.
